

Analysis of A Life Path #2

THE MEDIATOR AND HELPER

This is someone who is seeking harmony in life. These people are mediators, they do not want conflict, and they will do whatever it takes to avoid it. They are extremely easygoing and naturally calm. They typically do not like a lot of noise and need to be in environments surrounded by nature or anything with a soothing effect. They are curious about life and love the experience of discovering new things. They have a strong intuition and deep feelings. Music has a soothing effect on them.

Just by looking into a 2s eyes, you can just see what good, kind people they are. That is just where they come from. They are good people who love to love. They just want to help the world be a better place. They are constantly looking for ways to help others and this drains them. If there are 2 people in their lives who are fighting, they'll try to fix it. They just want everyone to get along. If you want someone who is affectionate you should seek a 2 life path number because need and give lots of love and affection. They need to be needed and love hugs and kisses. They crave unconditional love and do not like to be alone.

2s tend to be psychic and share this quality with the 7s. They may find that they have dreams that come true. It is common for them to experience déjà vu often. They have a natural psychic ability and can always trust their instincts. They have to pay attention and listen to their inner voice it will not lead them wrong. It's never a problem for them to follow; they don't have to be a leader. They do, however, want to be the helper.

They do not need the spotlight. They truly love seeing other people shine, however, they tend to be very popular because people just feel their good energy and want to be around them. They do things for other people expecting nothing in return. It is always out of the kindness of their hearts. They have tremendous compassion for people. You can always call on a 2 when you are looking for anything from an electrician to a gardener. They just tend to know everyone and love to bring people together.

They tend to be good at astrology, numerology, dream reading, or anything doing with the metaphysical. They are natural at counseling and social work. They make great parents, who tend to be friends with their children.

It is important to understand that 2s are here to love and be loved. They are the peacemakers. They tend to take on the problems of the ones they love. They take it very personally and do whatever they can to help out. This can be an issue because they will take others' problems and make it their own. It is like if someone falls in a hole and the 2 jumps in the hole to help just to find that now they Both are in the hole. They have to be careful not to take on the problems of others and trust that they are capable of handling their own problems. It is important for the 2 to have compassion and empathy, but they have to have boundaries. It is okay for them to say, “I am sorry that has happened, but it is still your problem to solve, I will help as much as I can and I trust you are capable of solving this issue, therefore I will not get in it with you”. If they place themselves at others’ disposal they will become angry and resentful. The only time a 2 really gets angry is when they feel pushed or threatened by someone. Then they become the terrible 2 and can be like a volcano exploding. Otherwise, they’re extremely good-natured.

When the 2 is surrounded by emotional vampires who are sucking all their energy, the situation can become intense. In these situations, they have to learn to just walk away. They seek harmony and have to be responsible for maintaining it for themselves. Otherwise, what they don’t deal with mentally will eventually attack them physically, and can end up with physical problems. 2s may often worry about what others think of them. They have to learn to not care what others think because it is only a reflection of the others, not the 2 vibration.

Affirmations for the 2:

“What people think of me is none of my business”

“I freely give and receive abundant love”

“I trust others can solve their own problems and I can have peace”

“I am the calm expression of peace and see the love in everyone”
