

Analysis of A Life Path #6

THE NURTURER AND GUARDIAN

The 6 vibration is the Nurturer; there is just a nurturing quality about them. 6s have a magical spirit. They stand out in a crowd and people cannot help but notice them. They are attractive inside and out. People are naturally drawn to them. People tend to feel safe in their presence because of the parental energy they carry. There is this force in them that makes you feel safe and looked out for. They love to laugh and make other people laugh. They are truly dynamic and you feel it when you are around them.

They are extremely intelligent and sharp. They catch on quickly and are fast learners. 6s make strong leaders that people want to follow. When they talk people listen. However, they can sometimes rub people the wrong way because they are direct and have an authoritative tone. They can be bossy and controlling; while some people easily follow others take it the wrong way. 6s mean no harm they are just looking out for everyone from a paternal point of view. They want to make life better for others. The 6 needs harmony and this need can stress them out. They want everything to be just right.

6s make great business owners. Their business environment will have a “family-like” feel to it. Typically, their business of choice will be some sort of service or form of hospitality. They may own a restaurant or a hotel or fix cars; anything of service. They excel in sales. They make great politicians because of their strong leadership qualities. 6s often treat their employees like children. They have to learn to trust that people can do their own job and that the work will get done. They do not have to do all themselves. They push themselves to work very hard. This makes them feel important and responsible. People can become resentful of them and feel as though the 6 is trying to control everyone and the whole situation. They make very strong managers, but can sometimes bump heads with authority, this is because they know the value they bring to the table and demand respect. They never take advantage of those under them and can easily inspire others to excel in their jobs. They really believe in people and want to see them doing their best.

They are the natural parents. 6s have all the qualities of a good parent and are very good with children. If they can't have children they will be parental to those around them including their own parents, siblings, friends, and even pets. This is because of their strong nurturing quality. 6s tend to throw themselves into their children's lives and have a hard time seeing them as adults; they see them as their baby forever. If you have a 6 vibration child you will often find that they think they are the parent and you are the child. You cannot take this personally, it is just their way. 6 children love to help in the kitchen and do crafts. You may even find that they are too helpful. You have to find healthy ways for them to use their nurturing qualities. This will build their self-esteem.

In relationships, 6 women tend to be attracted to men who are little boys inside, while 6 men tend to be attracted to the damsel in distress. They just want to take care of their partners. Sometimes you meet a 6 who has no desire for children of their own, yet they will talk about their pets as if they are their child. They need something to love, nurture, pet and hold. 6s need to be needed. If the 6 does not have children and gets divorced they will throw themselves completely into their work. When the 6 is in trouble, they have to speak up and say what they are feeling when they are feeling it. This will prevent unnecessary pain for them and others around them.

The 6s home is everything to them. They are “The Natural Interior Decorator”. They like to rearrange their home and make it just right. They need to be the king/queen of their castle and do not usually do well living in someone else’s home. They need the freedom to decorate, change the furniture around, cook, and just make it their own home. 6s tend to be sensitive to smells. If someone has perfume or cologne that is too strong it will overwhelm them. Many times they cannot even wear it themselves. They really take notice to smell. They pick up on your scent and you cannot hide smoking from them. They will know and can sense it even from another room. Their sense of smell is very strong.

6s do not usually like any type of criticism, even if it is constructive. If there is something you want to communicate to a 6 you have to do it carefully. I suggest first complimenting them, and then offer your suggestion while closing with a positive. Something like, “I really love how hard you have been working, AND I look forward to seeing improvements in your technique because you really shine when you are doing what you love. This will make them excited to improve their technique.

6s tend to put people on a pedestal and can be harsh when they do not live up to it. They want things to be just right and when it is not they take it personally. They have to go easier on others and not feel guilty or responsible. 6s tend to give more than they should so when it is not being given back they become like a martyr. They have to communicate their needs to others and be better and Receiving. When a 6 is unhappy, no one in the room is happy. They just have that power.

Occupations for a 6 include: Nursing, interior decorating, owning their own bakery, restaurant or daycare, guidance counselor, teacher, Politician, sports coach, Realtor, and anything in service or sales.

Affirmations for the 6:

“I can relax. I do not have to control all

“I have abundant love around me”

“I trust others to do a good job”

“I can take care of others and also be taken care of”

Compatible #s for the 6: 2, 3, 4, 9

Challenge #s for the 6: 1, 5, 7, and 8