

Analysis of A Life Path #3

THE COMMUNICATOR AND SUCCEEDER

The 3 should be performing or creating in some way. They are “The Natural Communicators”, and are extremely expressive. They excel at anything that stimulates their creativity. They are natural entertainers and comedians. They can be the class clowns and are very witty. They love to make life fun and exciting. They believe in the magic of life. They are the type that may never quite “grow up” because they have such a fun silly nature about them once you get to know them. They will love to make you laugh. They will express themselves in writing, dance, fashion, art, music, or anything that comes from their soul.

3s love to look good and are always “stage ready”. The phrase, “All the world's a stage,” is really true for them. They love fashion and make the world a beautiful place. They have a very critical eye, but cannot help it. They really want to make everyone look even better and feel special. It is extremely important to them that they look their personal best. They will make sure their clothes, make-up, hair, perfume, and cologne are just right. If you observe their home or car you will learn a lot about them because it is always some sort of expression of them.

They are great at communicating and can be very direct. They want to work hard and play hard. They will succeed when they put their heart and soul into their work. They need lots of affirmation from people. When they are told they are beautiful, fun, and appreciated they will give 10 times more than asked. They are very good writers.

The 3 is also very romantic. They want to be spoiled and love the excitement of romance. Because of their communication skills, they tend to be natural counselors and often pick a partner who is a “patient”. They will see their potential and want to save them and make them better. This can lead them to depression because they cannot change anyone they will feel frustrated. They may not always look at a situation for what it is until it is too late and they feel burned. 3s have to guard against extreme highs and lows. It is important that they learn to control their emotions. It is hard for them to find the middle ground because their emotions are so intense. They're fiercely loyal and don't get over anybody. Even when the relationship ends, it's never quite over, they tend to remain friends. 3's need people and they go to check their messages if there are not they can feel rejected.

3s have to always be using their creative side. If they don't they will dramatize their lives. Because they want to make the world happy they will internalize this dramatization and suffer internally. They don't always tell the truth and can sugarcoat situations or they simply exaggerate what's going on to make their life seem more interesting. They love to tell stories and can exaggerate them greatly to make it more entertaining. They can use this in a positive way, such as motivational speaking, singing, or any kind of acting, as long as they're talking and being listened to, they can keep it healthy.

So many 3s end up in some form of entertainment. They shine in the worlds of hairdressing, fashion, design, public speaking, or entertaining. Whatever they feel in their heart they want to do they should do it. As long as their passion is behind it and they have a healthy outlet for their expression they will succeed. If they believe in something, by the time they are done with you, you will believe it too.

Affirmations for the 3:

“I welcome my fame and fortune today”

“I am perfect just the way I am”

“I trust myself and give freely to the world”

“Everything is as it should be, I am enough and I have peace”

Eventually, you're going to give your subconscious permission to have it today. Not tomorrow. Today!
