

Set Hearts On Fire

with Numerology

By Davette Wheat
The Christian Numerologist

Numerology and Love

Setting hearts on fire is about you and your partner's understanding of each other's love needs and making sure they are met. Numerology is a secret esoteric method into revealing what felt on the deepest level even if it is not being said or expressed verbally. You can truly be the greatest love of each other's life, but it does take two. It starts with understanding your partner's needs and selflessly putting them before your own, that's the magic, but hearts only set ablaze when both have the same intention to love each other with passion, purpose and understanding.

Numerology will reveal your partner's secret matrix and give the clarity that is needed to understand each other on a much deeper level. Love changes people and can transform your relationship. There is no greater power than Love.

Life Path is the most Important number in Numerology

All you need is your partners full birthdate. Then add it all together and you get the Life Path Number. The Life Path Number is the most important number in Numerology and tells the most about any person. Having this information gives you powerful insight into what motivates your partner and describes what they need to feel happy and loved.

The formula:

Birthdate: March 15, 1977 = 03/15/1977 now add it up.
 $0+3+1+5+1+9+7+7 = 23$ we want a single digit... $2+3=5$

The Life Path Number is 5

Figure out your's and your partner's Life Path Number then work together in meeting each other's love needs.

Life Path

The 1 Life Path is independent and strives to be #1. The way to their heart is to make sure they know they are your #1. Words like “You’re the best”, “there is no one like you”, are words they need to hear. There is a bully that lives in their head and they need a partner who reminds them just how amazing they are. Be their #1 fan and biggest cheerleader. They are attracted to others who also seek to be the best at what they do, so make sure and celebrate your wins with them. They are happy when everyone is winning so find things to celebrate, especially their efforts and intentions. Turn on the charm and pour out the compliments. They love that! They want to know you put them first and in turn they will make you #1 too.

Gift Idea: Newest & best gadget or latest iPhone, time to golf, spa day or anything for mental relaxation.

Life Path

The 2 Life Path is about peace and love. They are the Love number. They are intuitive and good hearted. They want to be understood on the soul level and loved deeply for who they are. They tend to overgive and feel depleted and need a partner who considers them and makes time to genuinely listen to what they express. Surprise them with thoughtful gifts that lets them know you truly understand the things they value and are important to them. They need your attention and lovey dovey-ness and crave a spiritual connection. They seek a partner who will be their peace in a loud world. Give lots of affection and protect their heart, it is very sensitive. They are very protective and prideful. Don't shame them for errors, love unconditionally.

Gift Idea: Romantic dinner with an amazing view and deep conversations about their great ideas.

Life Path

The 3 Life Path is about creative expression, they want to make the world more beautiful and need a partner who see the beauty in them and is not afraid to tell them. They are creative in how they express love and themselves. Notice how they decorate and their natural talent for success. They need to be having fun or life will become burdensome. They love to laugh with their partner and can be quite the jokester. They need a partner who is playful and romantic. 3's can have extreme highs and lows so they need a partner who will notice their low and lift them up. They love to dress up and look good and want you to do the same. They want a creative lifestyle with many experiences and a fun partner to enjoy it all with. Take life lightly & laugh.

Gift Idea: VIP or backstage passes to their favorite gig, name brand accessories and fancy restaurants.

Life Path

The 4 Life Path is about security and learning new things. They need a partner who is willing to learn with them. They need a clean and organized space or they will be grouchy, It gives them a sense of control and security. Making them feel safe lets them know you are on the same team. They value friendship with their partner, building new things and inventing together. They love new ideas. They are logical and analytical. Their partner needs to make them feel safe coming out of their shell. Do not take offense when they're cynical, they are seeing the whole picture to prepare and plan accordingly. Believe in them and encourage them, they'll feel secure and be your rock. Help them find the positive in situations to calm their doubt and worry.

Gift Idea: Something handy and helpful making their life easier and more comfortable, just show you care.

Life Path

The 5 Life Path is about fun, freedom and adventure. And those are motivating words as it is what they are seeking. Anything around that feeds their needs. They love to celebrate and are always down for a party or night on the town. They need all 5 senses stimulated for their experience to be just right. They have a wild side and seek a partner who can be wild and crazy like them. They cannot stand to be tied down so it is important to be independent and give them space. Their need for adventure and high emotions cause them to be dramatic. They love the experience of life and want to soak it all up. Adventure is what keeps their spirit alive. They just want to have fun. Keep them guessing and be full of surprises they love adrenaline.

Gift Idea: A weekend getaway with adventure planned, fine wine, good food and physical touch are perfect.

Life Path

The 6 Life Path is about nurturing others, they look out for everyone and can feel neglected. They need a partner who will take some weight off their shoulders, They feel responsible for everyone. They need sexy dates, romance, and affection. They want to make others happy. Home is important to them and value things like cooking together, setting the ambience and cuddling. If you need to communicate a negative, I recommend a “feedback sandwich”. “I appreciate you, can we fix xyz, I love the dinner you made. They will listen if you first let them know you appreciate them. 6’s are parental and don’t like to be challenged. Small acts of service reminds them they are valued and loved. Massages help release all that tension they hold.

Gift Idea: Homemade romantic dinner with candles, love notes and some serious pampering.

Life Path

The 7 Life Path is a very deep thinker and dreamer, they tend to live in the clouds. Don't take it personally when they go quiet, they need space to process all their thoughts and feelings. They love a good mystery to solve as they are natural detectives. They need deep conversations and soul connections. Their way to their heart is through their mind. They have a hard time communicating so they need a partner who can be a safe space for them to open up. They love to research and grow their knowledge and wisdom. Ask the deep questions that you can process together, it will keep them hooked in conversations with you for hours. Embrace their quirks and respect their need to be alone. They avoid uncomfortable situations.

Gift Idea: Books with deep concepts, mythology and mystery, anything involving spirituality and experience.

Life Path

The 8 Life Path has a lust for life and desires to experience all the finer things that money can buy. They are a tough cookie and respect a partner who is just as tough. They need to be in control. They need a partner who is financially responsible and takes care of their body. 8's seek an infinity flow, all things working in harmony. They are very sensual and need a lot of physical touch. Travel and expensive, romantic dinners are what they look forward to. They are generous and need a partner who won't hold back what they can give. Finance, investments and business ideas are perfect conversations. They prefer quality over quantity and have no patience for partners who play the victim. They respect strength in a partner, mind and body.

Gift Idea: Fine wine and name brands, anything of Great Quality- material and experiences.

Life Path

The 9 Life Path is a natural giver. They seem like a follower but are really the leader. They will follow you to where they want to go. They will sacrifice for the ones they love and don't usually communicate when they need attention, love and hugs. They need a partner who will notice when they are sacrificing too much and make sure they are refilled. 9's need to be needed. Let them know you notice and appreciate their loving and caring heart. Acknowledge compassion and brilliant ideas. They have a soft heart and desire a partner who will be gentle with them, believe in them and support their efforts to serve others, they want to save the world and it is a heavy mission. Be the wind under their wings and they will take you to new heights.

Gift Idea: Flowers, favorite dessert, anything that is thoughtful from the heart makes them feel appreciated

About Me

Hi, I am Davette - The Christian Numerologist and Intuitive Life Path Coach. It is my mission to help individuals Discover the deepest parts of who they are, Breakthrough limiting beliefs, Reframe past trauma's and Align with their God-given Life Purpose so they can live a life of Peace, Passion & Purpose, without the negative programming of the past.

Take the first step in unlocking the next level of abundant possibilities in your life, click here and schedule a free 45 min discovery call with me. I hope you have found this information valuable. I wish for you a long and lasting love full of everything you and your partner need it to be.

Much Love,

Davette

www.Davette.Net